KX hosts Investor Event: Winning in the AI Era

FD Technologies (AIM: FDP.L, Euronext Growth: FDP.I) is today hosting an event for analysts and institutional investors on its KX business, which provides software to accelerate AI-driven innovation. No new financial information will be disclosed at the event.

During the presentation, Ashok Reddy, CEO of KX, and members of the senior KX management team will outline the AI opportunity for KX, including a demo of the capabilities of KDB.AI Server, its highly-performant, scalable, vector database for time-orientated generative AI and contextual search.

The session will take place at 2pm at etc.venues St Pauls, London. To register your interest in attending, please email FDtechnologies@fticonsulting.com. Following the event, a recording will be made available for viewing on the Investors section of the Group website, fdtechnologies.com.
